DAWSON DOESN'T LIKE SOLDIERS ON GUARD

They Refused to Move From Hotel Grounds, Under Orders From the Governor.

Dawson, Ky., July 29.—Excitement was occasioned here yesterday by the arrival of Lieut. Ragsdale, of Bowling Green, in command of soldiers of Company A, who went into camp on the Arcadia Hotel grounds, and it is reported that they have been sent here to guard the Illinois Central railroad depot and the long trestle near the river. Mr. N. L. Holeman, proprietor of the Arcadia, with Mayor J. E. Hayes and Town Marshal Tribble, requested them to vacate at once, but were informed that they would fight to hold their positions.

As the hotels are now all full of guests from different States, who are here for their health, the citizens are very much wrought-up over the soldiers being sent here at this time. All sorts of predictions are being made by the guests that night riders will invade the town, and some are leaving. An attempt was made to reach Gov. Willson over the telephone, but he was out of the city. An appeal will be made as soon as Maj. Bassett can be found at Hopkinsville to get him to order the soldiers away from this vicinity. No danger has been apprehended from night riders in this locality.

Maj. Bassett left this city yesterday for Dawson.

SECRET SERVICE MEN MAY RUN DOWN RIDERS

Uncle Sam's Detectives Expected To Be Sent To Trigg And Caldwell Counties.

Frankfort, Ky., July 29.—Secret service men may be sent by the United States Government to run down the "night riders" in Trigg and Caldwell counties who burned down the depots of the Illinois Central Railroad Company. Those who are on the inside and know what is going on would not be surprised to hear that from twenty-five to thirty of these secret service men were in Trigg and Caldwell counties to day, for it has been learned here that the United States Government has been requested to send detectives into those counties.

By whom the request was made could not be ascertained. It was learned here last spring that they were asked to come into the State and endeavor to run down the men who were sending intimidating letters, but that the Government's reply was that the postal authority did not cover the case. The depot burning incidents, however, are different, it is thought for the burning of the depots caused a delay of the trains, and possibly the prevention of the trains from running at all, which of course would interfere with the United States mails.

GAVE BOND

To Answer Charge of Shooting and Wounding.

The examining trial of Ben Stedman, col., charged with shooting and wounding with intent to kill Charles McKnight, col., was held before Judge Prowse Tuesday. The defendant was held over to the grand jury and gave bond in the sum of $100 for his appearance at the fall term.

The trouble occurred near Hargis bridge, a few miles south of the city, when McKnight, who had secured a license to marry a daughter of Stedman went to the latter's house after the bride-to-be. McKnight charges that Stedman fired several shots at him, one of the balls taking effect in his foot. The wedding occurred the next day, however.

CHRISTIAN

Church Convention to Be Held in Hopkinsville.

Largest Meeting of The Denomination Ever Held in Kentucky.

The Churches of Christ in Kentucky will hold their annual State Convention at Hopkinsville on September 21-24. The meeting this year has many unusual features connected with it. It will be the first combined State convention that has been held in the last thirty-five years, the South Kentucky convention at Princeton having voted for this union at Hopkinsville.

For the first time in the history of the convention every railroad in the State has declared a rate of one fare plus 25 cents for the round trip, and the managers are working hard to show their appreciation by having the largest attendance this year that they have ever had. Arrangements will be made for those who wish to stop at Mammoth Cave on the return trip from the convention.

No pains have been spared to make the program the best ever presented. Among the speakers will be H. D. Smith, Rev. J. J. Spencer, Rev. E. L. Powell, President R. H. Croesfield, President J. W. McGarvey, Rev. H. M. Hamill, President H. J. Derthick, Rev. A. McLean and Rev. C. E. Morgan.

There is no other convention or gathering to be held in 1908 of such vital importance to the Disciples of Kentucky as this convention at Hopkinsville. The question with the Baptist Church Union which will be discussed this year makes this convention paramount. The slogan for the year will be "One thousand visitors at Hopkinsville."—B. G. Messenger.

Accidents will happen, but the best regulated families keep Dr. Thomas' Electric Oil for such emergencies. It subdues the pain and heals the hurts.

AGED WOMAN

Of Clarksville, Tenn., Attempts to Commit Suicide.

Clarksville, Tenn., July 27.—Mrs. Bettie Burney, an aged woman of this city, made an unsuccessful attempt to commit suicide by cutting her throat and an artery in the arm with a razor. She left the dinner table and went to a room, where she used the razor while standing before a mirror. When found a few minutes afterwards she was lying in a pool of her own blood, but conscious. She said she had done what she thought was best, but expressed regret over it. A deep gash was cut in her neck, but the jugular vein was not severed. She has been in ill health for some time, being afflicted with cancer, and the deed was committed while despondent over her condition.

HYDROPHOBIA

Causes Death of Former Policeman, Who Was Bitten Last October.

New York, July 28.—Hydrophobia, the result of a dog bite, regarded at the time as insignificant, caused the death yesterday in the Presbyterian hospital of James E. Phillips, formerly a Lieutenant of Police. While Phillips was playing with his pet dog last October the animal bit him slightly on the cheek.

Symptoms of hydrophobia developed yesterday. By night the victim became violent and he was removed to the hospital. An examination failed to show any scar, but spasm followed spasm until the victim died. Phillips was dismissed from the police force some time ago, and has since conducted a detective agency.

"Suffered day and night the torment of itching piles. Nothing helped me until I used Doan's Ointment. It cured me permanently."—H. H. There is no doubt whatever that

RHODES SCHOLARSHIPS.

Next Qualifying Examination Will Be Held in October, 1909.

Washington, July 25.—The trustees of the will of the late Cecil Rhodes to-day announced for the information of college authorities and intending candidates for scholarship in the United States that the next qualifying examinations in this country under the Rhodes bequest will be held October, 1909, and the elected scholars will begin residence in Oxford in October, 1910. The examination will be held in each State and Territory to which scholarships are assigned, at centers to be fixed by the local committees of selection. It should be clearly understood that this examination is not competitive, but simply qualifying, and is merely intended to give assurance that every elected scholar is up to the standard of the first examination which the university demands of all candidates for the B. A. degree. One scholar will be chosen for each State and Territory to which scholarships are assigned. Candidates must be unmarried, and must be citizens of the United States. Candidates are eligible who have passed their nineteenth birthday, but have not passed their twenty-fifth birthday.

WHAT THE KIDNEYS DO

Their Unceasing Work Keeps Us Strong and Healthy.

All the blood in the body passes through the kidneys once every three minutes. The kidneys filter the blood. They work night and day. When healthy they remove about 500 grains of impure matter daily, when unhealthy some part of this impure matter is left in the blood. This brings on many diseases and symptoms—pain in the back, headache, nervousness, hot, dry skin, rheumatism, gout, gravel, disorders of the eyesight and hearing, dizziness, irregular heart, debility, drowsiness, droopy, deposits in the urine, etc. But if you keep the filters right you will have no trouble with your kidneys.

Mrs. W. I. Bailey, living on East Greenville street, Madisonville, Ky., says: "It is four years since I recommended Doan's Kidney Pills through our papers, and my confidence in them during the time which has elapsed has not been shattered in the least, but to the contrary, I learned more about them and can recommend them even more strongly. I said at that time that Mr. Bailey had suffered with kidney complaint off and on for a number of years, and had used almost every known remedy for this trouble but nothing brought permanent results. He finally learned of Doan's Kidney Pills and got a box. They benefited him in every way, more so than all other kidney medicines he had ever tried. He has used them many times during the past four years, and they have never failed to give him relief from these severe attacks. I have used Doan's Kidney Pills myself for a weakened condition of the kidneys and they proved just as satisfactory in my case. We both think there is no remedy like Doan's Kidney Pills. For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents, Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, New York, sole agents for the United States. Remember the name—Doan's—and take no other."

DEFEND PATRICIDE.

Will Young Employed to Handle the Case of Beach Hargis.

Lexington, Ky., July 28.—Mrs. James Hargis has employed Will A. Young, the Morehead attorney, to defend her son, Beach, whose trial comes up soon at Jackson for the murder of his father. It is stated that Mrs. Hargis has already paid Young $5,000 for his services. Young defended Judge Hargis at two trials for Breathitt county murders, and it now becomes his duty to defend his murderer.

Young Hargis is said to be in broken health and pleads for trial soon.

The contractor will be required to execute a bond for the faithful performance of his contract and the

An Eccentric Genius.

Among the geniuses none perhaps was stranger than the poet Raimond, who dyed his hair green, tried to strangle his father-in-law, used opium, tobacco and wine to excess and enjoyed perverted olfactory sensations. "My soul wars upon perfumes as the soul of other men soar upon music," he wrote. But what pleased him strangely, were odors of putrefaction, vile smells which other men abhorred and the stench of disease which made others sick. And yet his poetry is among the most passionately musical of the literature of France. He was exceedingly superstitious, believing he would not succeed in an undertaking unless he left a house first with the left foot, and would count the number of gas jets along the streets, the numbers of cats and numbers of doors. Adding these figures in his mind, he would consider the result an omen—multiples of three good, multiples of seven reassuring, while his bad number was seventeen. Curiously, once he was thrown out of a cab, the figures of which he added and found amounted to seventeen.

A Sharp Swindler.

A fashionable young lady once drove up in a handsome carriage to a private lunatic asylum situated a few miles from Paris and requested to see the proprietor. Her wish being acceded to, she informed the doctor that she desired to place her husband under his care to see if a cruel mania under which he labored—viz., "that he had lost a large quantity of jewels"—could not be removed. After some hesitation the doctor consented, and the lady drove away directly to a jeweler's in Paris and selected jewels to the value of several thousand francs and requested one of the shopmen to go with her in her carriage to procure the money for the goods she had taken. She drove with him to the asylum, and, arriving there, he was shown into a room. The lady then sought the doctor, told him of the arrival of her husband, and getting into her carriage, again drove away. The rest may be imagined, but the poor fellow was confined several days before it was found they both had been "sold." The lady was never heard of after.

Wagner's Portrait.

When Wagner was in England supervising the first production of his operas, the music enthusiasts commissioned the artist Herkimer to paint the musician's portrait, but Wagner was dashing about in such a state of frenzy that he repelled impatiently every attempt to get him to give a "sitting." Still, Herkimer stuck to him like a limpet, fed with him, walked and talked with him, watched him conduct his orchestra, wrote music and read books. At last, when every attempt to secure a "sitting" had failed, Herkimer rose early one morning, painted with frenzied speed all day, spent a short night in restless sleep, rose early again and painted furiously, till on the second evening he sat down exhausted—but with his picture finished. Wagner was called in and showed up his hand in amazement. "Ah!" he cried. "Wonderful! That is exactly how I would like to look if I could!"

Why Killy Didn't Sleep.

"One night I went in late to Father Dempsey's hotel. Every bed was full, and these were 200 men sleeping on the floor of the recreation room. Each one of them had a newspaper under him to keep off the dust of the floor. I pointed to one little Irishman and remarked that he did not seem to be resting well."
"What's your name, my dear?" Father Dempsey asked him.
"Thomas Killy, your reverence."
"You don't seem to be resting well, Mr. Killy."
"I'll get to sleep after awhile, your reverence," he answered.
"I don't believe you will unless you change your bed. You're sleeping on a Westfale Post," answered Father Dempsey.—"St. Louis Post-Dispatch."

Caught the General.

One of the regular army officers tells a story of how the old stringent army regulations once went against General Scott. One wet afternoon that soldier was caught in the rain in Washington. He was in full uniform and was well known, so, no cab being near, he borrowed an umbrella. Arriving at his hotel, an underofficer approached him and calmly remarked:
"General, you will consider yourself under arrest for eight days for carrying an umbrella while in full uniform."

His Solitude.

"Is it a fact that your mother-in-law threw herself out of the third story window and you did nothing to restrain her?"
"Excuse me, I went to the first story to catch her, but she had already passed."—Diablo Rosa.

Riches.

It is not what we have, but what we can do without, that makes us rich. Socrates, seeing a large loaf of valuable pass one day, exclaimed, "I am most happy, for there are so many things that I do not want!"

The Maroon Manster.

Friend—I suppose you run down a great many people? Montez—Well, sometimes I run them up. Friend—Run them up? Montez—Yes; last night I ran two men up a tree.—Chicago News.

A Change.

Mrs. Larkin—I want a little money today, Fred. Mr. L.—I'm very glad of that. Mrs. L. (surprised)—Why are you glad? Mr. L.—Because generally you want a good deal!

If you order a pair of these tires, you will find that they will ride easier, run faster, wear better, last longer and look better than any tire you have ever used or seen at any price. We want you to send it to us at once, because, when we receive it, we will give you a special price.

$100 REWARD $100.

The readers of this paper will be pleased to know that there is at least one dreaded disease that science has been able to cure in all its stages, and that is Catarrh. Dr. Williams' Catarrh Cure is the only positive cure now known to the medical profession. Catarrh being a constitutional disease, requires a constitutional treatment. Dr. Williams' Catarrh Cure is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surface of the system, thereby destroying the foundation of the disease, and giving the patient strength by building up the constitution and assisting nature in doing its work. The proprietors have so much faith in its curative powers that they offer One Hundred Dollars for any case that it fails to cure. Send for full particulars.

Camp Jouett Henry.

The Madisonville soldiers at Cobb have named their camp in honor of the Colonel of their regiment—Camp Jouett Henry. A letter in the Madisonville Hustler from one of the soldiers says the boys of the company are very indignant over an editorial in the Madisonville Journal of the 24th, that insinuated that they were doing unwilling service. They sent the following denial to the Journal for publication, signed by Capt. Shanks and every officer and private, and by Bud Herron, the colored cook:

"Office of Company 'E,' 3rd Infantry, Kentucky State Guards.
Cobb, Ky., July 25, 1908.—To Whom It May Concern: We wish to state to the public that we condemn night riding, and volunteered our services for active duty, and that we desire to remain on duty, and request the Journal to correct their misleading article in their issue of July 24, 1908.

POTENT FACTS

About the Fair to Be Held at Madisonville.

It will be larger and better in every respect this year than ever before.

Pleasure and profit tell the story of a few days spent at the fair.

Nowhere else can you meet so many old friends, and find an equal amount of enjoyment for the money.

A great deal of work and extra effort has been given this year to bring together amusements that will be satisfactory, those that will give you full value for every penny expended.

Emphatically and unquestionably there is not another place in the whole country where so much to interest, entertain, amuse and please you can be had for a small expenditure. You are entitled to a day of pleasure on the dates, and you will be sadly disappointed if you do not attend the fair.

Judge Cook's Instructions.

According to Judge Cook's instructions to the list grand jury the man who took part in the Hopkinsville raid may have been guilty of the following offenses, all who confederated being equally guilty.

1. Confederating to commit crime, without going forth.
2. Confederating and going forth.
3. Going forth to destroy property.
4. Going forth to injure persons.
5. Going forth to commit arson.
6. Going forth and shooting with intent to kill J. C. Felts and Wm.
Glass.
7. Going forth and feloniously assaulting W. L. Mitchell.
8. Going forth and shooting at without wounding Rev. G. H. Means and others.
9. Accessory after the fact by aiding in the concealment of the crime or crimes.

Gano Warder is under indictment for confederating and going forth to destroy property and is also under bond for confederating and going forth to injure persons. The statement circulated by Warder's followers that he has been arrested twice for one offense is false. He is charged with numerous offenses and is liable to arrest on any one of them.

CATARRH MADE LIFE

A BURDEN TO ME.

MISS ANNIE CATRON, 927 Main St., Cincinnati, Ohio, writes: "As I have found Peruna a blessing for a severe case of catarrh of the head and throat which I suffered from for a number of years, I am only too pleased to give it my personal endorsement. "Catarrh, such as I suffered from, made life a burden to me, my breath was offensive, stomach bad, and my head stopped up so that I was usually troubled with a headache, and although I tried many so-called remedies, nothing gave me permanent relief. I was rather discouraged with all medicines when Peruna was suggested to me. "However, I did buy a bottle, and before that was finished there was a marked change in my condition. Much improved I kept on until I was completely cured in a month's time, and I find that my general health is also excellent."

People who prefer solid medicine should try Peruna tablets. Each tablet represents one average dose of Peruna. Maintain the Ideal Laxative.

RESIDENCE BURNED.

Mr. John W. Foard's Country Home Destroyed.

The dwelling house of Mr. John W. Foard, near Church Hill, was burned yesterday morning at 10 o'clock. It caught from a fire; and burned so rapidly that nothing could be saved from the upper story. It was a two-story brick with a one-story frame addition. The loss was from $3,000 to $5,000 with some insurance. Neighbors responded and did what they could, but there was no way to put out the fire. Many articles prized by the family beyond their real value were lost. In one room 100 quilts packed away were burned.

Denny Smith, the State's Attorney, having declined to act in the case.

Mr. Stites sprang a sensation when he filed an affidavit in support of a motion for a change of venue. The affidavit set forth that the Commonwealth could not get a fair trial under the state of lawlessness existing in Trigg county, and further charged that Kelly was a leader of the night riders. Mr. Stites said that the Commonwealth could not get a fair trial in any of the adjoining counties with the exception of Christian, and asked that the case be sent to that county.

Judge Sims held that the affidavit would have to be supported by oral testimony and gave the Commonwealth until 9 o'clock Tuesday morning to obtain witnesses.

Tuesday was devoted to hearing testimony in support of the motion. Maj. E. B. Bassett was a witness and also one or more members of the pursuing posse testified that the Hopkinsville raiders were followed into Trigg county. There were several other witnesses and the Kelly attorneys introduced many witnesses to prove that Christian county was as bad as Trigg, filing a list of outrages compiled by the Kentuckian Sept. 24, 1907. The legal battle was continued to-day.

Bernice Gooch, a soldier of Company D, shot at two men who were prowling about the hotel at night in which attorney John Stites was lodging.

She Lost Her Shoes.

While in Samoa Robert Louis Stevenson and his wife in a great measure did as the Romans did—that is to say, as the Samosites did. It was Louis' custom to lie abed late of a morning and spend the remainder of the time under a tree on the hill side in light pajamas, the dress of the native Kanaka. With his wife it was the same. Stays were unknown to her and a curling iron a dim recollection of a shabby past. It was when Stevenson and his wife were living at Apia, in Samoa, that Mr. Heywood was appointed consul there for this country. Shortly after his arrival in the country he arranged for a reception to the English, German and American residents of the country that they might meet him in his official capacity and be them an "efficiency of Samoa." Of course an invitation was sent Robert Louis Stevenson and his wife. Two days before the date of the function Mr. Heywood was surprised to receive a note from Mr. Stevenson sent by courier. The note read as follows:

Mrs. Robert Louis Stevenson and Robert Louis Stevenson accept Consul Heywood's invitation with pleasure and assure him that they will be present on the evening of the 20 by that time.

Stevenson finds her other shoe. Ever thine, ROBERT LOUIS STEVENSON.

Ancient Fashion Jargon.

The language of the fashion plate and the woman's paper is so appalling to the mere man even in these days of emancipation and we may presume, more grammatical womanhood; but, according to an extract from a fashion journal of 1785, the jargon of those days was even more astounding. This is how the paper described the dress of a certain Mlle. D. at the opera:

"She appeared in a dress of 'stiffed sighs,' ornamented with 'superfluous regrets,' the bodice cut in a 'perfect candor' point and trimmed with 'in-different complaints.' Her hair was dressed in 'sustained sentiments,' with a headress of 'sustained conquest,' ornamented with several 'drawings' and 'downcast eyes' ribbons and her collar was 'beggar on horseback' color."

"So doubt all these marvelous terms conveyed some meaning to the fashionable woman of the days when French society danced on the edge of the volcano of 1789, but to their descendants of today they have absolutely no meaning."

The First Halls Glimp.

They were seated around a table in a well known cafe, and the conversation had turned upon the development of the flying machine and the fruits of the inventive genius of the day.

"Tut, tut!" exclaimed a solemn faced, French member of the party. "What of it? The old folks were not so slow. Look at the telephone, claimed as a modern invention. Why, say, it's the oldest on record."

"You better see your doctor. What's the matter with you?" asked another. "Oh, I mean it," said the solemn faced man. "Telephone service dates back to the garden of Eden—that's where it originated. The garden's call was 2-8-1 Apple."

"Then he dodged the remnant of a sandwich, reached for his hat and was gone—New York Globe."

The Insuperable Anticipation.

A young Scotch emigrant was brought before the magistrate of a Nova Scotia court, charged with having deserted his work on a certain farm without giving due notice to his employer. When asked what he had to say in his defense, he replied, "Weel, they gied me nouit but brakenshaw to eat." Brakenshaw, it may be explained, is the flesh of animals which have died a natural death. "How was that?" asked the magistrate. "Weel, it was this way. Ye ken, the auld coo deed an' we ate it, the auld steek (gander) deed an' we ate it, the auld sow (sow) deed an' we ate it, the auld bubbleek deed an' we ate it. Then the old woman deed—an' I left."—Belman.

Hindoo Confectionery.

Like the American girl, Hindoo girls are passionately fond of sweet things. One of their candies, said, is very much like our plain sugar candy. It is made of sugar and milk and flavored with attar of roses. Buddhika-hal, or hair of Buddha, is one of their most popular sweetmeats. It is so called because it is in fine, long strings like vermicelli. This is made of sugar and cream from buffalo's milk, which is exceedingly rich.

A Queer Twist.

The late Bishop T. U. Dudley of Kentucky declared that he was indebted to a mountaineer of that state for the most ungrammatical sentence he ever heard. This is it:

"Them three Miss Blake are three of as pretty a gal as I ever see."

Beau Brummel Reprimanded. Beau Brummel once insolently replied to an invitation to take tea by remarking that he never "took" anything but physic.

"Yes, you do," frowned his hostess; "you take liberties."

Playful Otters.

Otters are the most playful of all the animals, romping, wrestling, playing tag of war with a stick instead of rope and sliding downhill on a slippery incline of mud which they make themselves.

Why, indeed?

Robert Lowe once watched a deaf friend listening to a most tremendous score with his ear trumpet. "Why," Lowe wondered aloud, "why contented against natural advantages?"

FATALITY OF A BULLET.

A Miraculous Escape From Death and Its Terrible Sequel.

"People may have been told and poked fun at all ideas which are embodied in premeditation," said a Texas official at a small gathering of friends in Washington, "but sometimes a man rubs elbows with events which make him less skeptical about such things. A young boy near Dallas was shot while out hunting, and the bullet lodged so near his heart that there was not one chance in a thousand that he could survive an operation. But he did survive, and the operation was one of the things of which the surgeons in the local hospital were very proud. But the boy's recovery was tedious, and as soon as the fever left him he was allowed to see his friends and to play cards and generally to amuse himself. The bullet had been given to the boy and occupied a conspicuous place on the table. Every caller saw and handled the bullet and talked over his almost miraculous escape from death. One day the boy's mother was with him and several of his friends when a boy who had formerly come to school with the patient paid him a visit, and of course he wanted to hear all about the operation and to see the bullet. The boy told it all with great vim, and then, taking up the bullet, he said, 'Part of the bullet that caused all the trouble, and now I shall bite it to pieces to pay it back,' and he laughingly put it in his mouth. Just then he was seized with a coughing fit. The bullet slipped down his throat, lodged in his windpipe, and in a few minutes he had strangled to death. The poor mother was nearly crazed with grief, but she afterward told the pastor of her church that she felt her son was destined to die of that bullet and that she had little confidence of his recovery, even when the operation was pronounced successful. She had dabbled somewhat in the occult sciences, and she declared that the boy had been predestined from all time to die from that particular bullet and that nothing could save him from that fate."—New York Press.

Knife, Spoon and Fork.

Two table articles are found among all uncivilized peoples—the knife and the spoon. The knife was originally a weapon of attack or defense. It was used for cutting and carving fish, but its convenience in eating soon became apparent.

The origin of the spoon is uncertain. It must have been invented at a very ancient date, for it is found among people that have never come into contact with civilization. The necessity of having some implement for dipping water seems to have led first to the invention of the calabash or the use of the coconut shell and then on to the spoon.

We must wait 4,000 years before we find the fork, or, as a French writer on table etiquette has said, "From the creation of the world to the beginning of the seventeenth century man ate only with his fingers." This is, however, a mistake of 400 years, for we find forks as early as the thirteenth century, when they were mentioned as being kept for special purposes. Thus John, duke of Brittany, is said to have used a fork to pick up "soppy," and Piers Gostard had three for eating pears with.

To Know an Artist.

The Munich Jugend has discovered five new signs by which to detect the school to which a painter belongs. First, if he paints the sky gray and the grass black he belongs to the good old classical school; second, if he paints the sky blue and the grass green he is a realist; third, if he paints the sky green and the grass blue he is an impressionist; fourth, if he paints the sky yellow and the grass purple he is a colorist; fifth, if he paints the sky black and the grass red he shows possession of great decorative talent.

Solid Backing.

Little Ethel is the young daughter of a contractor in Philadelphia. One of her sisters has recently entered into an international marriage.

Ethel was asked the other day by one of the teachers, "Whom did the ancients say supported the world on his shoulders?"

"Atlas," answered Ethel.

"Quite right," said the teacher.

"And who supported Atlas?"

"Oh," answered Ethel, "I suppose he had an American wife."—Philadelphia Ledger.

The Bark of the Dog.

Cardinal in his "Music of Nature" tells us that in a state of nature dogs do not bark, but simply whine, howl or growl, the explosive sound known as "barking" being found only in dogs that are domesticated. The barking of a dog, he says, is an acquired faculty, an effort on the dog's part to speak, de-

THE SECRET OUT.

To refute the many false and malicious attacks, bogus formulas and other untruthful statements published concerning Dr. Pierce's World-famous Family Medicine, the doctor has decided to publish all the ingredients entering into his "Favorite Prescription" for women and his equally popular tonic alternative known as Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. Hereafter every bottle of these medicines leaving the great Laboratory at Buffalo, N. Y., will bear upon it a full list of all the ingredients entering into the compound. Both are made entirely from native roots of rare medicinal value. The ingredients of the "Golden Medical Discovery" being Golden Seal root, Queen's root, Stone root, Black Cherry bark, Mandrake root and Bloodroot. The "Favorite Prescription" is prepared in a similar manner, from Blue Cohosh root, Lady's Slipper root, Unicorn root, Golden Seal root and Rattleweed root, these ingredients being macerated for a long time in a rather high temperature in a menstruum composed of chemically pure glycerine, of proper strength. The exact working formula for making these medicines can be obtained by mail from Dr. J. C. Pierce and his sons, Chemists and Pharmacists, 215 West 20th Street, New York City. A year's experience has ascertained that the ingredients employed, and the active medicinal principles residing in the ingredients employed, and the way in which they are combined and combined as to keep un-changed in any climate. Thus the use of alcohol is entirely avoided.

PROOF POSITIVE.

Without solicitation, Mrs. H. Harrison, of 112 West 20th Street, Sioux City, Iowa, wrote us as follows:

"I suffered for more than seven years with a very complicated form of female trouble accompanied with nervous prostration, and after doctoring with six physicians all bearing excellent reputations, was informed that unless an operation was performed I would be an invalid all my life. Hearing of the wonderful cures effected by Dr. J. C. Pierce's medicines, and believing that there must be a cure for almost every ailment, I determined to make one more effort. I wrote to Dr. Pierce, and I will never forget his kindly advice, telling me to follow his instructions faithfully and not to submit to an operation. I commenced to improve after all my sufferings were so noticeable to friends that they began to inquire about my method of treatment. I was pleased to tell them of the wonderful cures effected by Dr. J. C. Pierce's medicines, and as so many ladies applied for them, I felt it duty bound to give them the benefit of my experience, so I sold them a large number of bottles of Dr. J. C. Pierce's medicines, and his plans of cure effected by Dr. J. C. Pierce's medicines. I am now a healthy woman, and in one year's time, nothing short of a miracle could have believed it had I not seen the picture and known the facts."

Dr. Pierce's Good Temper is a natural and in five months my temper of good health, and good health is largely a matter of healthy activity of the bowels. Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets cure constipation. They are safe, sure and speedy, and once taken do not have to be taken always. One little "Pellet" is a gentle laxative, and two or three will be a gentle cathartic. They never grip. By all druggists.

FULLY 100 SHOTS FIRED.

Soldiers Occupy Dawson Over Protests of Local Officials.

Dycusburg, Ky., July 28.—A battle occurred between soldiers guarding Henry Bennett's home one mile from here, and night riders who were going to attack Bennett. Bennett has been guarded by eight soldiers, but they went to town last night, and shortly after dark four strangers were seen prowling about the premises. The soldiers were hurriedly called and returned about 11 o'clock. They discovered forty or more figures skulking towards the house through the woods, and went out to meet them. At a distance of about fifty yards the night riders realized they were discovered.

but the night riders escaped. About one hundred shots were fired.
